Insight
The Philosophy Department offers a BA in philosophy, as well as a minor in philosophy and a minor in ethics. Our faculty is top-notch, holding PhDs from Berkeley, Brown, Columbia, Duquesne, Michigan, and Princeton.

Experience
One of the best things about majoring in philosophy at California State University, Chico is that students get to take small classes with outstanding faculty in a very supportive learning community. Students get to know each other well, and conversations from class often spill out into informal discussions after class. There are further opportunities to enrich one’s education in the Philosophy Club or the student group Minorities and Philosophy. Students looking to hone their thinking through competition can join the Ethics Bowl team.

Outlook
A degree in philosophy will not train you for a specific job, but it will train you to think carefully about difficult subjects where there is no road map and to clearly express your thoughts in writing and speech. These abilities are prized by employers in nearly every industry, and philosophy majors have the highest salary growth trajectory from job entry to mid-career. Philosophy majors also do very well on standardized tests like the LSAT (for law school) and GMAT (for business school). Our graduates work in a variety of fields, including law, technology, and academia.

PHIL 357 Feminist Philosophy 3 Units USD
Typically Offered: Fall only even years
How does the term 'feminist' (a political commitment) modify the term 'theory' (an intellectual practice)? This course addresses this question by surveying several feminist frameworks for thinking about sex, gender, and oppression. We consider whether there is a tenable distinction between sex and gender, what it means to say that a category is socially constructed, and how social constructions can be oppressive. We read a range of contemporary feminist theorists working to analyze the complex interrelations of social differences (gender, race, class, sexual orientation, species), and relations of social domination and economic exploitation in a globalized world. 3 hours lecture.
